

TURN AGAINST SHEA AT TRIAL

Young, Kelly, Murphy And Schults Are To Aid State In Noted Trial In Chicago.

FACT KNOWN CAUSES COMMOTION

Jury Is Complete And Conviction Of Cornelius P. Shea Seems Probable--Former Friends Now Bitter Enemies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Nov. 30.—A bomb shell was thrown into the camp of the Shea defense this morning when Albert Young, former president of the Teamsters' Union, William Kelly, business agent of the "Coal Teamsters' Union," and William Murphy, said to be a member of the famous "wrecking crew," entered a plea of guilty on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the Teamsters' strike of 1905.

State Evidence
All the men declared their intentions of turning state evidence. The incident caused considerable excitement in the court room and took the other defendants completely by surprise. Shea and Young had for years been close friends and worked through several strikes side by side. Since the last convention of the Teamsters' Union, however, they have been bitter enemies, each leading different factions which have fought each other bitterly both in the meetings of the unions and on the city streets.

Bitter Feeling
The trouble between Young and Shea resulted from efforts made by the former to secure the presidency of the International Teamsters' Union, which Shea bitterly opposed. He represented the element of the unions who were dissatisfied with Shea's management of the Chicago strike and upon Young's defeat withdrew from the union.

Shea Re-elected
Shea was re-elected president of the International Union and Young and his followers have since then bitterly fought the old organization in their efforts to organize a new one known as the United Teamsters of America. There has been considerable trouble among the teamsters themselves over the matter.

More Fore Witness
After Young, Kelly and Murphy had entered pleas of guilty it was announced that Joseph Schults, who is said to have been one of Shea's "Body Guards" during the strike of 1905, will also turn state evidence.

Jury Complete
The Shea jury is now complete. Five thousand tallies have been examined and it has cost seventy thousand dollars thus far, the trial itself having scarcely begun. It has consumed ten weeks thus far. Shea and ten other associates are to be tried.

SAMUEL L. CLEMONS SEVENTY-ONE TODAY

Mark Twain, America's Leading Humorist, Receives Many Congratulations.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Nov. 30.—Samuel L. Clemens, whom all the world knows as Mark Twain, was seventy-one years old today. At his city home in lower Fifth avenue (he is also the possessor of a country place at Tarrytown, near the estate of John D. Rockefeller) there was an almost continuous procession of messengers during the day, bearing letters, telegrams and cablegrams of congratulation and good wishes. The veteran humorist is at present enjoying excellent health and for a man who has passed the three-score-and-ten mile post on life's journey he presents a remarkable picture of hale and alert activity.

ADMITTED LEAVING GIRL TO HER DEATH

Gillette Rehearsed Story of Grace Brown's Drowning When Cross-Questioned Today.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Chester E. Gillette told his story of Grace Brown's death again today, this time in reference to questions put to him by the prosecution, who picked out every flaw in the accused man's testimony. District Attorney Hard questioned Gillette with scarcely any let-up and to the surprise of everyone in the room Gillette was cool and confident when the court adjourned for luncheon. Gillette replied in the affirmative when asked if he swam to shore and left Grace Brown to die in the lake.

THREE PEDAGOGICAL CONVENTIONS OPEN

Eastern Ohio, North Texas and Central Kansas Teachers' Association Meet.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—A total of teachers are here attending the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association. Every city and town in the wide territory embraced by the association is represented, and it is said to be the largest meeting ever held by the organization. The opening session in the new Wells high school auditorium this afternoon was begun with prayer by the Rev. George P. Rowland, John A. Kitchard, president of the State board of education, delivered the address of welcome. Superintendent George C. Maurer of New Philadelphia, president of the association, responded, and also delivered his formal address, outlining what had been accomplished by the association within the past year. He was followed by Superintendent Franklin P. Geiger of Canal Dover, the incoming president, who delivered his inaugural. Other addresses and discussions on topics of live interest to the educators filled out the program of the initial session. The chief feature arranged for the public session this evening is an address to be delivered by Superintendent James A. Leonard, of the Ohio State reformatory, Mansfield. The association will terminate and conclude its business tomorrow.

WOMAN INAUGURATED WILD SALOON FIGHT

Pounded Husband Who Had Been Missing Since Wednesday Night—Free-for-All Rumpus Ensued.
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 30.—There was a wild free-for-all rumpus inaugurated in a local saloon this morning by one Mrs. Lewis and her object of attack was her husband, who was winding up a Thanksgiving carousal. She applied to the police this morning for assistance in locating him, he having been absent since Wednesday evening. The man was found in an intoxicated condition in a saloon, but the wife refused to swear out a warrant for his arrest. She took the work of punishing him upon herself and went into the barroom, relieved her lame better half of his cane and then proceeded to lay it over his head and body. A fracas ensued, but no arrests have been made, the fight having been quieted without any one being injured and all refusing to make complaints.

HARD TO GET A JURY FOR THE TRACY CASE

Only Five of the Twelve Examined Could Qualify This Morning—Trial Held Open Until Monday.

DEEP WATER CANAL PROJECT IS PUSHED

Government Engineers, Soon to Conduct Survey, Hear St. Louis Business Men.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 30.—The government board of engineers for rivers and harbors gave a hearing at the office of the Merchants' exchange in this city today on the proposed fourteen-foot waterway from Chicago to St. Louis. Congress has made an appropriation to cover the cost of an extensive survey on the deepening of the Mississippi and Illinois rivers to make a channel connecting with the Des Plaines river and Chicago drainage canal. Representatives of the commercial bodies of Chicago, St. Louis and other points that would receive benefit from such a waterway appeared before the board and presented arguments in support of the project.

ARMY AND NAVY READY FOR GRIDIRON BATTLE

West Point And Annapolis Football Teams In Philadelphia--Former Is Favorite In Betting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30.—In finest fettle and eager for the fray, the football eleven of the Annapolis and West Point academies have arrived in Philadelphia, ready for their annual game tomorrow on Franklin field. Extra stands have been erected on the field and all other preparations for the contest have been completed. More than 30,000 seats have been disposed of, and the usual crowd of distinguished officers of the army and navy is expected to be at the game. The secretary of war and the secretary of the navy are expected at the game, along with numerous other officials of the several departments of the federal government. Most of these will arrive in special trains from Washington and New York tomorrow.

Because of the excellent showing it has made this year against Yale and other star teams the West Point eleven is naturally a decided favorite in tomorrow's contest, though the sailor boys from the naval academy are counted upon to put a game struggle for the honors.

The contest tomorrow will be the twelfth between the football teams of the two academies. The navy has won four and the army six. Last year they played a tie game.

The first game between the two government institutions was played at West Point on the Saturday after Thanksgiving, 1890. In that game the wearers of the black and gray, captained by William Michie, received a severe drubbing at the hands of the navy by the use of the famous "flying wedge," which caused such an interesting crusade to be made by the members of the W. C. T. U. and the S. P. C. A. against the "brutal sport," and which was later barred by the rules committee. The score on that occasion was 24 to 0.

The return game was played on the navy's grounds on November 30, of the following year before the (for those days) very large crowd of 3,000, and resulted in the army retrieving its former defeat to the tune of 32 to 10.

For the third game of the series the navy again traveled up the Hudson, and although the army team outweighed them seven pounds to the man, the contest resulted in a 12-to-4 victory for the sailor boys.

The army went to Annapolis on December 3, 1893, entirely confident of its ability to carry a victory back to West Point. It returned, however, with such heartbreaking figures as navy 6, army 4.

The games were then discontinued until December 2, 1899, when the University of Pennsylvania first entertained "the nation's heroes" on Franklin field. The navy could not stop the fierce plunges of the army backs, who were determined, and who succeeded in wiping out the stain of the defeat of 1893—17 to 5.

On December 1, 1900, the navy was again the victor, the final score being navy 11, army 7.

It was at Franklin field on November 30, 1901, that the blue and gold first met the famous Dais, who started the army's scoring by placing a beautiful drop from the field squarely behind the goal posts, near the end of the first half and literally kept the ball rolling until at the close of the game the score stood army 11, navy 5.

At the contest of 1902, which took place on November 23, the first of the army's big scores was piled up, and the middies returned to Annapolis, to dream of army 22, navy 8.

Exactly one year to the day and date, the soldier boys rubbed it in on the navy to the mournful tune of 40 to 5, and the middiesmen went back determined to do or die in their next attempt.

With this determination strong upon them they came to Philadelphia two years ago, and by one of the gamiest fights ever watched by a phenomenal crowd, they fought their heavy opponents all over the field, and by an almost superhuman effort kept the figures down to army 11, navy 0.

Last year, the contest was transferred to Princeton, and resulted in a magnificent tie game, the score standing at the close 6 to 6.

 and Mother Took Vows.

Miss Margaret Geddes of this city and Elmer W. Waite of Brodhead were quietly wedded at four o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Janet Ains, 207 North River street, where the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
 Robert Geddes took their nuptial vows many years ago.

The ceremony was read by Rev. J. W. Langhin and the young people were attended. Only twenty relatives were present and a wedding luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Waite did not succeed in evading their friends and received the usual shower of rice and old shoes. Whether they finally went it is unknown but they are expected shortly in Brodhead where they will take up their residence. Mr.
 Waite is assistant principal of the Brodhead high school and coach and manager of athletics. He is popular with the school board and pupils and received handsome gifts from both.

The other many friends of the bride and groom remembered them with numerous messages of congratulation and pretty and valuable presents.

 he has.

Can You Use Food
 When You Get It?

Thousands of Stomachs Starving
 Where Mouths Are Well Fed.
 Costs Nothing to Relieve
 This Condition.

Eating is fast becoming too much a part of the daily routine, if not a mere tickling of the appetite—a thing to be gotten out of the way as quickly as possible. Little thought is given to "what kind of food" its effect upon the system; and whether it will be of use in building up the tissues of the body.

Your stomach will revolt, if it is not already doing so. It must shut up for repairs. What of the dizziness, and sometimes the faint, which stop you after a hurried lunch? What of the general distress after a heavy dinner, a feeling of pressure against the heart which calls a halt and makes the breathing difficult? Is it common for you to be oppressed with belching and sour eructations? Are you constipated, and then do you laughingly toss
 a dime to the druggist for his most palatable relief? Beware of temporary cures that are but palliatives.
 Many antidotes for the common ills which our flesh is heir to seem at first to relieve, but in reality, if not injecting poison into the system, lay the foundation for a desperate and more far-reaching disorder.

Three-fourths of all diseases originate with a breaking-down of the digestion and nine-tenths of all digestive troubles originate with one or more of the symptoms named above.

Beware, then, of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. If you find yourself aching, listless, lacking in ambition when you should be on the alert,
 Do not doctor the stomach.
 It needs a rest from food and drugs.
 Do not flush out the bowels.
 It takes more than forcing food through the passageway to make blood and tissue and nerves.
 Do not starve your stomach.
 Food is a thing to be worked for all
 there is in it and your stomach
 will do the work if you will help
 it in Nature's way.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but the natural elements
 which enter into the healthy stomach and intestines to perform the function of digestion. Governmental tests and the investigations and sworn oaths of expert chemists attest this fact. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go to the source of the trouble and positively restore the glands and fluids of the mucous membrane of their proper condition. They promptly relieve the distress of all troubles originating in the stomach or bowels, (with the one exception of cancer).

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are recommended by physicians and all reliable pharmacists. If you are a sufferer from indigestion or dyspepsia, try a fifty-cent package today. At all druggists, or if you prefer send us your name and address and we will gladly send you a trial package by mail free. F. A. Stuart Co., 63 Stua-

Unlimited Number.
 Janesville, Wis., Nov. 26, 1906.
 Puzzle Editor—Dear Sir: The number of pennies that the coin collector penny in each of the 23 boxes, he will find it was 23. And by placing one penny in the 23d box, he will have the same number of pennies in each box. And as the whole amount of the pennies is 23, and divided by the number of 23, there will be no remainder,
 and if divided by 23 there will be no remainder. So there were 23 pennies, skidoo.

 the support that the theatre-going public gave to Manager Myers in bringing such plays to Janesville was most meagre. Both companies contained the original casts, came direct from the large city theatres
 with the prestige of long and successful runs.

"The Stolen Story", given on Wednesday, was particularly fine. A newspaper play, with the interesting plot
 of the good old-fashioned cabinet officer in municipal politics from a sense of duty, just enough love to make it all interesting and just enough dramatic situations to keep interest at a pitch throughout. The acts were laid in the news room of the New York Sun and are true to life.
 One depicts the beautiful terrace of a country home and one the corridor
 of the Metropolitan Grand Opera House, New York. The plot of the play lies in the dropping out of a comma from an important document and the brilliancy of Billie Woods in discovering it. The lines are snappy, the situations cleverly drawn, and the stage settings superb. Taking it all in all, it was one of the best plays seen here this season. Harry Stone, Billy Woods was true to life. Edward Holt as the city editor, dictating enough for any office, and Mary Stockwell, a charming Frances Cunningham, James Sealey as General Cunningham, were excellent, and the rest of the cast, including Augustin Daly, Edna Hicks as "Tommy", the office boy, were well balanced.

Thanksgiving Day's production,
 both matinee and evening, of "On Parade", is one of the few war dramas on the stage today where death
 and devastation are not brought directly onto the stage, except at the conclusion of the third act. It is the story of a brave girl who risks her life to carry dispatches for the southern officers in the midst of countless dangers of a southern man, a Virginian, who is serving his country,
 not his state; their meeting, his enthusiastic action, and the final reward which comes to him. It takes four acts to tell the story. Each act seems with situations, each act develops
 the plot in a most pleasing manner.
 As Mr. Serrano, the Union officer, Virginian, Serrano gave as fine a bit of acting as has been seen on the local stage for many a day. Constance Pinckney, portrayed by Miss Charlotte Walker, was the charming southern woman who played for state before everything else. Frank Allen as General Randolph Pinckney, the southern gentleman too old to fight himself but ready to sacrifice everything for the southern cause, Francis Conlan as Tom Cross, the one-legged mountaineer, a former soldier of General Pinckney in Mexican war days,
 Miss Althea Luce as Miss Polly
 Pinckney, Scott Cooper as Judge Tucker Robinson, Morgan Conlan as Captain Robert Pinckney, and Annie Robinson portrayed by Miss Wheeler, were excellent. The first act was laid in Tom Cross' shack on the Rappahannock in April of '64; the second,
 at Pinckney Place, the old-fashioned sitting room being very cleverly reproduced. The third act is in the same room three days later and closes with the only semblance of war, beyond uniforms and talk. In the whole production, the capture of Major Dale and death of his Captain,
 Allen Frazer, portrayed by Frederick Forrester. The surprise is complete and the climax comes so suddenly that many of the audiences involuntarily ducked their heads when the bullet broke the lamp on the table and the Confederate soldiers rushed in through the windows. The last act is laid in the gardens of Pinckney Place a week after the surrender of General Lee. The returning soldier, the old General broken in spirit and health but waiting news of his son Bob, the charming son of Constance,
 the story of the downfall of the Confederacy told by old Judge Robinson, the return of Bob, brought back by Major, now Colonel Dale,
 the final surrender of Constance to one of the cleverest bits of dramatic action that can be well imagined. Mr. Serrano and Miss Walker are real characters and their clever work, their faithful production of the characters they represent, the pathos
 of the whole play, the complete stage settings, all made the production one worthy of packed audiences instead of the meagre scattering that partially filled the auditorium of the thetre.

Large Attendance
 AT WILBUR FUNERAL

Friends of Deceased Paid Last Tribute to Remains at Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

The many friends of the late Pliny
 Wilbur gathered at the Presbyterian church at half-past two o'clock yesterday afternoon to pay last tribute to the remains of the deceased. Rev.
 J. W. Langhin preached a kindly and loving funeral sermon and song services were rendered by Miss Edna Nott and Miss Cora Anderson. The casting was covered with profusion of mountain offerings from individuals and groups of friends. The body was taken to the vault in Oak Hill cemetery, where it will remain until Mr. Wilbur's sister, Mrs. Daniel Preller, arrives
 here from Mount Vernon, Wash. Then it will be interred in Oak Hill. The pallbearers were Harry George, John Hager, Harry Jones, John Horn, James
 Keenan and Will McCune.

Taken to Hospital. Clarence Bullock, who is suffering severely with the disease known as "lockjaw," in the pressing and drying establishment which he conducts at Beloit, was taken to the hospital Wednesday evening.

CHARITY BALL WAS
RED-LETTER EVENT

Over a Hundred Couples Participated in Festivities at Assembly Hall
 Last Evening.

Pleasant recollections of Thank-giving night, 1906, will linger long in the memories of those who attended the brilliant ball, given at the Myers theatre, at Assembly hall last evening.
 The presence of an unusually large number of visitors, the all-pervading spirit of good fellowship which attends the holiday ushering in the Christmas season, the beautiful gowns worn, and the splendid music dis-coursed were some of the contributory elements which made the happy hours pass all too quickly for every participant. In the background, but not entirely lost to view, was the worthy cause, and it is a pleasure to record the fact that 150 tickets were sold and that the net proceeds which will go to the Associated Charities organization to be used in relieving sickness and need will amount to $115.

The use of the hall was donated by Hayes Brothers, who the attractive decorations used at the trainmen's ball
 on the previous evening, by the Janesville Floral Co., and the furniture and services by Frank Kimball. To the generosity of these business men and the active efforts of the committee of arrangements composed of the Misses Mae Valentine, Marjorie Mount, Mabel Greenman, Grace Valentine, and Louise Crosby, large credit is due. The young ladies received valuable assistance in their commendable preliminary work from the patronesses: the Mesdames Mary Crosby, W. H. Greenman, P. J. Mount, J. G. Rexford, Norman Carle, J. F. Sweeney, and E. E.
 Heimstetter, who also extended the formal welcome last evening, and are very grateful for the generous response on the part of the citizens.

The guests were received at the north entrance and Knelt & Hatco's orchestra sounded the opening waltz shortly after nine o'clock. Throughout the evening luncheon was served in the balcony by Mr. and Mrs. Gibson. At one o'clock this morning the last dance number was played.

Guests from out of town were: Miss Anna Campbell of Plainfield, New Jersey; Miss Donald Seals of Birmingham, Alabama; Fred Shelton of New York City; Harold Townsend of Utica, New York; Mr. and Mrs. James J. Hall, Harold Hall, and Miss Cornelia Ewer of Chicago; Miss Genevieve Decker of Milwaukee; Prof. J.
 F. A. Pyre and Charles H. Lange of Madison; Judge and Mrs. J. T. Adams and H. G. Hall of Beloit; Ed Lewis of Whitewater; and H. Sater of Oshkosh.

RAILWAY TRAINMEN'S
 21ST ANNUAL BALL

At Assembly Hall Thanksgiving Eve
 Was Attended by 500 Dancers—
 A Notable Social Event.

One of the most successful and enjoyable social events of the season,
 the twenty-first annual ball of the Order of Railway Trainmen, attracted a throng of dancers to Assembly hall Wednesday evening. The ball-room was tastefully and beautifully decorated for the occasion and an elaborate orchestra stand, built in the south end with a triple archway and converted into a veritable bower of palms and vines, accommodated Knelt & Hatco's ten musicians. The numbers discoursed were unusually inspiring and the festivities continued far into the morning. Throughout the night a substantial luncheon was served by Schmiedley Bros. in the large rooms on the second floor. Visitors were present from Chicago, Milwaukee, Madison, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Escanaba, Madison, and several other cities. The committee of arrangements, to which large credit is due for the perfection of the appointments and delightful time enjoyed by the guests, consisted of J. J. Dunin, chairman, D. P. Davey, John Queney, and L. O. Holloway. The attendance was nearly five hundred and the half share of the net proceeds which are to be turned over to the city hospital fund will amount to at least $100.

RAYBURN MCKINNEY AND
 JOSEPHINE VALE WEDDED

Ceremony Was Performed at St. Patrick's Church Parsonage at 3:30
 Wednesday Afternoon.

Rayburn McKinney of Rockford and Miss Josephine Vale of this city were wedded at the parsonage of St. Patrick's church at half-past three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Philip Costigan was best man and Miss Irene Davis attended the bride. The happy couple departed at six o'clock for Rockford, where they will make their future home.

All members of the W. R. C. No.
 21 are requested to meet at G. A. R.
 hall at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon
 to attend the funeral of our sister's husband, Comrade George Phelps.

NO MORE DANDRUFF.
 Newbro's Herpicide Destroys the Pesticiferous Cause of Annoying Dandruff.

Does your head itch? Is your coat or dress full of white flakes after dressing your hair? That's the effect of dandruff. Is your hair thinning?
 Are you beginning to get bald in spots? Are you already, in fact, rapidly becoming bald? If so, that is the effect of a mean little parasite that burrows in at the root of the hair, and throws up the scalp in dandruff and eats off the hair at the root. Science's latest discovery is a destroyer of that pestiferous germ.
 That destroyer is contained in no other hair preparation on earth but Newbro's Herpicide. Try it, and be convinced. A delightful dressing, sold by leading druggists. Send 10c
 in stamps for sample to The Herpicide

ALUMNI WON CLOSE
GAME FROM SCHOOL

Old Stars Victorious by Score of 11
 to 5—Proceeds of Contest Went to Athletic Association.

Alumni 11.
 High School 5.
 Much fun for the old stars.
 Football and comedy amusement
 for the spectators.

Funds for the empty treasury of the high school athletic association.
 Such are the results of yesterday afternoon's football game at Athletic park. The contest was a success in every way that a game where one side must defeat the other can be.
 The alumni were victorious because of weight and ability to tackle. The high school kept the score low by excellent team work.

The game opened at three o'clock
 with a good-sized crowd witnessing.
 The number of spectators was materially cut down, however, by the inclement weather and the counter indoor attractions. After an exchange of the ball within the first few minutes of play the alumni advanced the pigskin into the high school territory.
 Bennett and Caldwell making considerable yardage and right guard for thirty line. It was easy then to push Sennett over the goal line for a touchdown.

 Caldwell made a goal. All this happened ten minutes after the game started. The high school then braced

"The Squaw Man" is being taken to amusement seekers in the coming of the "Squaw Man" to the Myers theatre Thursday, Dec. 4. Lighter & Co. under whose direction the play will be presented here, are accustomed to surround their many plays and stars with strong companies. The cast of "The Squaw Man" is said to be no exception to the rule, in fact, it is an exceptionally long one, including more than thirty speaking parts, each of which is said to be played by well-known actors or actresses, especially selected with a view to suitability.

"The Squaw Man" ran for six months last season at Wallack's theatre, New York, and no doubt a crowded house will greet it upon its visit here.

At the Myers theatre Saturday, Dec. 1, matinee and evening, Fred E. Wright will again present his new and elaborate production of the musical success, "The Beauty Doctor," in what Manager Wright terms "the second edition" of the play. This second edition of "The Beauty Doctor" is replete with new features and numbers, both musical and of a dancing nature and to the favorites who have been added new faces, both among the comedians and in the chorus. New comedy situations, new costumes, besides a plethora of musical numbers that are all credited with being hits, add to the quality of the already successful musical farce which last year was filled with humorous situations, funny lines, and excellent music.

"The Beauty Doctor" is a broadly humorous satire on the beauty cult and the theme affords opportunity for an endless amount of wholesome and hearty fun. The score is filled with airs which will be whistled and sung everywhere, notably, "Myron Brown, Here," the versatile comedian of the company, is one of the year hits. "On a Paper and a Comb," sung by Marie Hylands and a chorus of girls dressed as Costar-monger boys and girls. "Come Down, Mr. Man in the Moon," "Angel Voices," a topical trio of great merit and many other features. All these numbers are well interpreted by the comedians and the coterie of singing and dancing girls who in "The Beauty Doctor" constitute some of the hand-somest women seen in this branch of stagecraft. The cast includes that really in musical comedy—a number of comedians instead of the usual one man with parts of nearly equal value, and all in all "The Beauty Doctor" contains such a wealth of material such as goes into the make-up of a musical comedy that it undoubtedly promises plenty of good entertainment.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, November 30, 1866.—Thanksgiving.

This time-honored custom was observed with all due ceremony in this city yesterday. Nearly all the business places were closed and families and friends enjoyed themselves around the social board.

Moving. We ask the indulgence of our readers for a few days, while moving the Gazette office into its new quarters just fitted up for us in Holldridge's new block. In the noise and confusion attending this troublesome job, we shall do the best we can which shall necessarily be poor enough. We hope to get settled as soon as Tuesday next.

New York, Nov. 30.—It is believed in London that the British Government has refused to pay the Alabama claims and that Canada will have to look out for trouble with the U. S.

It is further believed that France has expressed a willingness to assist in the defense of the Canadian provinces in the event the British navy would cooperate with her in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Daily News has a rumor that several Fenian prisoners left Eastern port to proceed on English commerce.

Montreal, Canada, Nov. 30.—Montreal Telegraph of the 29th says the Canadian Government is willing to discharge the Fenian prisoners that are confined here if the United States Government will guarantee that Roberts shall not attempt to make another raid on the Provinces. The Fenian prisoners are to be removed Sunday morning, under a strong guard up to Sweet'sburg. It is impossible to secure lodgings and the hotels are crowded with strangers from the United States who have come to witness the trial.

About 4,000 pairs of rifles similar to those captured at Fort Erie, from O'Neil's last June, has been brought into this city by a person who states he purchased them in New York, and brought them here as a commercial speculation. They have been offered for sale but at such high figures the government intends inquiring into the matter.

Engineer Killed in His Cab. Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 30.—Engineer O'Brien was found dead Thursday by the fireman in the cab of a west-bound Rock Island passenger train, which was running 50 miles an hour at the time. O'Brien's skull was crushed, supposedly by some projecting timber.

Miners to Get More Pay. Salt Lake City, Nov. 30.—Announcement was made Thursday that the operators of 13 mines in the Bingham district, employing about 2,000 men, would advance the wages of their employees on December 1. The amount of the increase is to be determined by a committee of operators. The Newhouse Mining and Smelters company has granted 10 cents per day.

RESULT OF MILTON DECLAMATORY MEET

Miss Miriam Post Won First Honors—Other News of the College Village.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Milton, Nov. 30.—The declamatory contest of Tuesday was one of the best ever given here. Miss Miriam Post was first, Miss Amelia Rittenhouse second and Miss Florence McLevy third. Program: March, Massenet, college orchestra; The International Race, DeLeon, G. D. Barber; The Man of Sorrows, (from The Crisis), Churchill, J. O. Green; The Soul of the Violin, Merrill, T. Hull; Valse Melodique, Saucy, college orchestra; A Royal Princess, Rosette, Lora Black; The Race at Devil's Elbow, Buchanan; Florence McLevy; In the Palace of the King, Hope, Amelia Rittenhouse; Zingarella, McDowell, Milton Post; Oskidas, Brahman, college orchestra; decision of judges. Judges—Rev. A. O. Stephens, Elkhorn; Supt. H. C. Buell, Janesville; Prof. C. R. Rounds, Whitewater. Fall into Cellar.

Mrs. Lou Van Horn recently injured herself by a fall into her cellar. Not being able to be about the King's Daughters, of which she is a member, furnished her with the materials for a Thanksgiving dinner.

Many Heard Cooper. Congressman H. A. Cooper delivered his lecture, "My Trip to the Orient," at the Seventh-day Baptist church Monday evening and was greeted by an appreciative audience. President Daland introduced the speaker in well chosen words. The honorable gentleman spoke for two hours and was frequently interrupted by hearty applause. His lecture was descriptive of the twenty-four thousand-mile journey and replete with interesting facts in regard to the island possessions of this government and their peoples and the duty which devolves on our nation to protect and care for its new wards. The address received universal commendation and made many new admirers for the first district congressman. Tuesday morning he visited Whitford Memorial hall.

Much Mail, Thursday. The Milton postoffice distributed one thousand pieces of mail Thursday morning and the office force felt thankful that there was not another mail due for two hours.

Personal Brevities. Miss C. B. Leonard of Evansville ate her Thanksgiving dinner with her mother.

C. E. Hilliker, traveling agent of the Milwaukee Road, visited Editor Davis of the Journal Wednesday.

Messrs. P. M. Green and J. G. Carr made an inspection of the Palmyra lighting plant Wednesday.

The King's Daughters meet with Mrs. E. D. Bliss Monday evening next.

H. Schneider of Watertown visited Rev. A. Bergmann this week.

Mrs. Sadie Ring is again the guest of Milton relatives and friends.

Wm. Shafer of Port Atkinson was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Rice Sunday.

TWO TELEPHONE SYSTEMS

The following paragraph recently published in the Gazette and the letter from Mr. Valentine, which follows, explains itself:

"Milwaukee has discovered that one telephone company is an aggravation, so the city has decided to admit competition. In due time they will make another discovery and decide that two companies are a nuisance. This is the experience of every city where the experiment has been tried."

"Dear Gazette: Wherein is competition in telephones a nuisance? Would you like to go back to the days when the Bell Telephone Co. had a monopoly in Janesville and had 237 telephones after almost 25 years of operation and charged $4.00 per month rental? The Rock Co. Tel. Co. gives you 1500 telephones for $2.00 per month; is it a nuisance?"

"Yours truly,

"RICHARD VALENTINE"

Mr. Valentine asks two questions: the first, will be readily answered by every business man who finds it necessary to employ both companies for the transaction of business. But little is saved when the expense of the double service is considered.

The second: "Would you like to go back, etc." would probably be answered in the negative by patrons who employ only the independent company. But this fact should not be overlooked: the telephone service, like the railway, the express and the telegraph, is of national scope; and while the old telephone company may be called a monopoly, it is in position to render service with which no local company can compete; and it will continue to occupy the field, unless finally driven out by a combination of independent companies, which would simply mean another monopoly.

The Rock County Telephone company renders good service in a limited field, and is doubtless as good as any independent company in the state. This class of companies will vastly improve their service and efficiency when they arrange to hitch on to the main line, and become feeders, the same as side lines contribute to the great trunk railway system.

These companies sustain an inter-urban relation in local fields. They accommodate local traffic, but are not in position to compete in the wider domain. That they furnish many families, in both city and country, a local service which they would not otherwise have is conceded, and is not a debatable question.

PRIVATE POSTAL SERVICE

A group of capitalists, headed by W. D. Boyce of Chicago, will present to the postal commission tomorrow, a proposition to take over and operate the postal service of the United States as a private business under government control.

Capital to the amount of 50 million dollars is behind the enterprise, and the promoters believe that they can conduct the business at a saving of 100 million dollars to the people annually.

They propose to give the public a one-cent letter rate and to pay to the government all profits accruing after deducting seven per cent interest on capital invested, a bond for the faithful performance of duty to be furnished.

This is a business proposition, and conflicts at a time when government ownership is being so freely discussed, is refreshing, to say the least.

The government is too intangible and unwieldy to engage in any sort of a business enterprise, and the people will be better and more economically served when it retires from the field. The building of the Panama canal is the latest object lesson of government failure, and the decision to have the work done by private contract was both wise and timely.

The government, in attempting to conduct business enterprises, is both extravagant and inconsistent. A strict censorship prevents contests of chance schemes and yet every public land sale would put the Louisiana lottery to blush in its palmy days.

Railroad passes and special privileges are denounced as devices of the devil, but congressmen and other privileged characters deadened $22,000,000 worth of franked matter last year, causing the deficit in Mr. Madden's department which he is too obtuse to discover.

The public printing office is supported at a cost of six million dollars annually, while the same work could be done by private contract for two-thirds the money.

The government has too many stockholders, and too large a board of political directors to ever render the management of business either feasible or practical. It is the largest and most unwieldy corporation in existence.

It is officered by a class of men whose tenure of service is dependent on the whims of a fickle constituency. It has no fixed policy so far as business is concerned, and never can have.

There is no more reason why the people should invest their money in a postal equipment, than in a railway equipment; the principle is wrong and the elements of good business management are lacking.

The proposition of the postal service syndicate should be carefully considered, but the chances are that it will be turned down without a thought. Congressmen, deprived of a postoffice prerogative, would be out of occupation, a good share of the time, and bereft of the franking privileges, life would hardly be worth living.

A GOOD REASON

The Boston News Bureau says: "We have been asked several times why Thomas F. Ryan is withdrawing from all corporations."

"We can say definitely that Mr. Ryan is withdrawing his name from all corporations, as will several other prominent individuals, and all for the same general reasons."

"It will be recalled that Andrew Carnegie, when he ran the Carnegie Steel Works, had absolute control of the shares, but with himself or his name not appearing as a director of any of the companies."

"John D. Rockefeller started some years ago to retire from all his directorates."

"Mr. Ryan has now started to retire from all his."

"The responsibility of being a director in a corporation is becoming too great both in the public prints, in the political arena, and at law."

"Any man who is a director of any corporation can be attacked by process servers, day or night, at weddings or funerals, and is not free to travel in this country from one state to another. Where the United States law does not get him, Ohio or Massachusetts law may."

"His name, face, and family are assets in modern journalism, for the caricaturists, the political writer, and the financial freewhizzer."

"As a director of corporations he is not only a target for the malignity of the unsuccessful, but he is in danger of becoming the ball in the bat-tle and shuttlecock between two contending political parties, and which can publicly, politically, and legally abuse him the most."

"The result in a few years of present tendencies will be to leave the direction legally of all the great corporations in the hands of office boys or those who can be hired to stand the treatment."

"That tells the story very frankly, and it is absolutely true. The directorate of corporations stand for strength and conservative management, and usually comprises men who have large financial holdings."

"These men are seldom actively engaged in the details of management, but they are held accountable for success or failure. The position is onerous and thankless, and when the realm is invaded by muck-rakers and other disinterested reformers, the average capitalist retires from the field."

"The fight on capital, now going on in this country, is a dangerous proposition, because capital is naturally timid, and confidence destroyed, is not easily regained. It is high time to take a day off and size up the situation."

"Tillman may be a good drawing-card for Chautauquas, and lecture course programs, but that is a poor excuse for foisting him on intelligent northern audiences. The same freedom of speech, which he enjoys, would not be tolerated in the south, and if it was, the audience would be largely conspicuous for its absence."

DIED ON WEDNESDAY IN THE CREAM CITY

George W. Phelps, Pioneer Resident of Janesville and Veteran of Civil War, Called.

At quarter-past three o'clock Wednesday afternoon George W. Phelps succumbed in a Milwaukee hospital from the effects of an operation performed late Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Phelps was born in Ohio in 1837, and was in his seventieth year. He came to Janesville in 1857 and with the exception of a few years and the last two, which have been spent in the Old Soldiers' Home at Waupaca, he resided in this city. He was a veteran of the Fifty-second Wisconsin Infantry. The deceased is survived by a wife, who lives here, and four sons: Everett and Wilbur of Chicago; and Eugene and Emory of this city. The funeral will be held from the home of Byron Phelps, 57 North Bluff street, Saturday afternoon at half-past two o'clock. The body will be laid at rest in Oak Hill cemetery beside the remains of his son Warren, who died September 7, 1886.

Attention Comrades: There will be a special meeting of W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., at their hall December 1 at 1:30 p. m., to attend the funeral of our late comrade, George Phelps.

GEORGE VINNEY, Commander.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Minnehan celebrated their Golden Wedding at Home Yesterday.

Surrounded by their five children, grandchildren, relatives and a few neighbors, to the number of forty, Mr. and Mrs. James Minnehan celebrated their golden wedding at their home, 201 Lincoln street, yesterday. An elaborate Thanksgiving day dinner was served at half past eleven o'clock and the afternoon and evening very pleasantly spent. Mr. and Mrs. Minnehan were united in marriage in the old St. Patrick's church here just fifty years ago yesterday and the day was one filled with rejoicing and happiness. The children are: Mrs. John Caldwell of Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Frank Keefe of Chicago, Mrs. Joseph Fuhman of Chicago, James Minnehan of Chicago and Mrs. Fonda Burke of this city.

PARALYTIC STROKE; O. F. NOWLAN VICTIM

Former Postmaster Struggled with Serious Attack Last Night—Reported Better Today.

While examining some plans in the office of the new county building which he has been erecting at Elkhorn at nine o'clock last evening, Oscar F. Nowlan, former postmaster of Janesville, was suddenly stricken with paralysis. One of his assistants came promptly to his aid and as soon as possible he was removed to a hotel. Mr. Nowlan did not lose consciousness and was feeling much better when he was brought home on the one o'clock train today. Drs. St. John and Gibson were called to the home and after an examination held out hope that the patient might suffer no permanent disability or ill effects. They said this afternoon that his mind was bright and that he was able to take nourishment.

Do You Think For Yourself?
Or do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

Look at an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering; then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest medicine or known compound, sold by druggists for the cure of women's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts; for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famous medicine is advised.

No other medicine for women's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The best medicines in the world cannot take the place of the family physician. Consult him early when taken ill. If the trouble is with your throat, bronchial tubes, or lungs, ask him about taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Do as he says. He has no selfish interest. He is a doctor, and his duty is to cure you. He is a doctor, and his duty is to cure you. He is a doctor, and his duty is to cure you.

Brotherhood Business Men Are Organized
Commercial Club Formed and First Regular Meeting Will Be Held in January.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Brodhead, Nov. 28.—On Monday evening a "Commercial Club" was formed by the business men. The first meeting will be held in January when a program will be rendered, refreshments served and important business transacted.

G. E. Dixon has sold his stock of general merchandise to Brown Bros. and Holmes of Janesville, who will close out the stock.

Miss Caroline Spaulding went to Madison Wednesday to spend the winter with her sister, Miss Lena.

Miss Lola Rowe of Chicago spent Sunday in the city with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Don Collins and children spent Sunday in Eagle.

Messrs. Ed. West and Emmet Randall who have been working in Iowa this summer, are home for a visit. Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Newman of Monroe spent Friday and Saturday here.

Robt. Taylor and Harold Towne returned home last Thursday after an extended stay at Antler, N. D.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Fisher spent Thursday in Center in attendance at the golden wedding of Mr. Fisher's brother.

The students and teachers of the high school gave Prof. E. W. Waite a very pleasant surprise at the school house on Tuesday evening and presented him with a china clock and silver fruit bowl as tokens of esteem.

Prof. Waite left on Wednesday afternoon for Janesville where he was married to Miss Margaret Geddes on Thursday.

Dan Hall accompanied his daughter, Mrs. Koste, to her home in McGregor, Iowa, on Monday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Matt Putnam on Saturday, Nov. 24.

Even of Too Much Reading.
A bookish man, says Dr. William Osler, may never succeed. Deeply versed in books, he may not be able to use his knowledge to practical effect, or more likely, his failure is not because he has read too much, but observed too little.

To Shut Off Papa's Income.
"But why are you in such a hurry to get married? I love you and you are on the right side of papa."

"I know, but it's this keeping on the right side of papa that is worrying me; when we are married I won't have to let him win at poker when we play."—Houston-Post.

Came Back on the Double.
"I believe," said the cheery philosopher, "that for every single thing you give away two come back to you."

"That's my experience," agreed Phineas. "Last June I gave away my daughter and she and her husband came back to us in August."

WEEKLY REPORT OF TOBACCO MARKETS

Conditions of Leaf in Various Fields and Sales in Different Cities.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—A total of 2,067 hogsheds of tobacco were sold on the Louisville tobacco market last week, as compared with 3,583 during the corresponding period of 1905.

Since the first of the calendar year sales have amounted to 132,224 hogsheds, as compared with 125,472 for 1905. Of the sales last week 252 hogsheds were Burley and 2,215 dark.

Of the Burley, twenty were of this year's crop and averaged $8.10. There were forty-nine hogsheds of new dark sold at an average of $6.68. Rejections the past week amounted to 15 per cent of the sales by auction, which were 499 hogsheds. Five hundred hogsheds of tobacco were received on the market and since January 1st, have amounted to 95,709.

Prices have ranged as follows: dark red burley, $6.50 on basis and $15 on fine and selected leaf; bright red burley, $7.50 on trash and $20.50 on fine and selected leaf; colony burley, $8 on trash and $26.50 on fine and selected leaf; dark manufacturing tobacco, $5.50 on trash and $11 on fine and $5.50 on leaf; rehandlung dark tobacco, $6.25 on good lugs and $8.50 on fine and selected leaf; dark export tobacco, $5.50 on trash and $11 on fine and selected leaf.

Large quantities of excellent quality of new tobacco are being received on the Richmond, Va., market. Prices have ranged as follows: prime lugs, $1.50 and $4; common to good lugs, $1; good to prime lugs, $2 and $3; short leaf, $7 and $8; long leaf, $2.50 and $10 and wrappers, $10 and $12.

Light receipts of common and medium grades of tobacco were recorded on the Lynchburg, Va., markets last week. The color and size of the leaf were good, but the quality and texture were considerably off. Prices ranged as follows: primings, $3 and $5.00; lugs, $4 and $5.50; common leaf, $5.50 and $6.50; medium leaf, $6.50 and $8, and good leaf, $8 and $12.50.

During the week ended November 10th, 255,500 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Lynchburg market as compared with $286,300 pounds during the previous week. From September 1 to November 10th, 2,645,000 pounds were sold, as compared with 2,507,100 pounds during the same period of 1905.

There were light receipts of tobacco on the Newburg, Va., market last week and few sales owing to the harsh weather. Warehousemen are looking forward to large offerings the coming few weeks. Not more than half a crop of tobacco has been produced in Brunswick county and similar conditions prevail in other counties of Southside, Virginia. Prices ranged last week: common lugs, $4.50 and $2; good lugs, $6 and $7.50; short leaf, $8 and $8; shipping leaf, $8.50 and $12; short wrappers, $9 and $12.50; and fine wrappers, $15 and $18.50.

Two farmers of Orange county, N. C., sold tobacco on the Danville, Va., market last week at $58 per hundred pounds, the record price for the season. The tobacco was fine, bright wrapper and was purchased by the R. J. Reynolds company. Both receipts and sales continue large on this market. There is less damaged and wet tobacco on the market and for the last few weeks the quality has been better than the early deliveries and the color better. There is a small proportion of good to fine wrappers and export types. Prices show an advance and the market is firm. There is considerable trading in round lugs and small dealers have been selling at good profits. Most of them have practically disposed of their entire holdings.

The sales recently on the South Boston, Va., market have aggregated 500,000 pounds weekly and have sold at an average of nearly nine cents, though some fancy wrappers have sold for 40 and 50 cents a pound. It is estimated that about 35 per cent of the crop has been already sold, and the bulk of the crop will be disposed of by the middle of January. Damaged tobacco is offered in small quantities though the average quality is much improved.

FRENCH CHAMPIONSHIP.
Frank Forrester Defeats Ferdinand Garcin at Racquets.
Tuxedo Park, N. Y., Nov. 30.—In an exhibition match at the Tuxedo Tennis and Racquet club Thursday Frank Forrester, professional of the Georgian courts of Lakewood, N. J., defeated Ferdinand Garcin, champion of France, three sets to one. The match was one of the best witnessed on the courts at Tuxedo in some time. A large number of society folk who were spending the holiday at Tuxedo witnessed the match. Garcin gave Forrester a handicap of half 15 and bisque. The first set was won by Forrester at 6-4, and the second went to the Frenchman at 6-2, but the third set, the hardest fought one in the match, was won by Forrester after some very fine tennis. The fourth and deciding set also went to Forrester at 6-4.

British Peers Conciliatory.
London, Nov. 30.—Although it has been feared that the recent speeches of Premier Campbell-Bannerman and A. J. Balfour had closed the door to compromise on the education question, when the education bill reached the report stage in the house of lords Thursday night, minor concessions were made on both sides, and Lord Lansdowne, the opposition leader, delivered a conciliatory speech. The utmost diversity of opinion, however, still prevails as to the fate of the measure.

Apple Preserved in Lime.

"You must prove that," said Mr. Randolph, "and according to our agreement, it must have been a crime which was much talked about."

"Quite right, my friend, but I shall be able to demonstrate all that. By a curious coincidence a robbery was committed on the very night and upon the same train upon which we made our wager, while another robbery was committed almost at the moment when the stipulated month expired. Thus two crimes transpired within the time allowed me, and with both of these my name has been connected in the mind of the detective, Mr. Barnes. Now, that you all may better understand the circumstances I must go to what I might call the beginning. Years ago certain circumstances in my earlier life gave me an intimate acquaintance with the methods used by detectives, and I then acquired the idea which led me into this undertaking—that where the criminal has succeeded in escaping actual watching during the commission of his crime, so that there is no witness to the act, the detective is almost powerless until he learns the object for which the crime was undertaken. Am I not right, Mr. Barnes?"

"To know the object of a crime, of course, is a great assistance, but much would depend upon the attendant circumstances."

"True. The object then is important. From this point I reached the conclusion that if a man approached another, totally unknown to him, at night in a lonely neighborhood, struck him on the head, killing him, and then, unseen, reached his own home, it would rest entirely with himself whether or not he would ever be caught. I wanted a chance to try this experiment—that is, to commit a crime solely to test the ability of the detectives to discover me afterward. The difficulty was that a gentleman of honor would scarcely wish to engage in such a reprehensible piece of business. For years, therefore, I could think of no way to have my wish, till the mere chance threw the opportunity within my grasp. Waiter, fill up the glasses."

He paused a moment while this was being done. The men went around with champagne, and when Mr. Thaurer was reached he asked to have his burgundy glass filled also. Mr. Mitchell was again speaking when the waiter returned with the red wine and, as requested, Mr. Barnes also presented his glass for the same liquor, saying in an undertone to Mr. Thaurer, "I cannot take too much champagne."

"One of my hobbies," continued Mr. Mitchell, "as you all know, is the collection of jewels. A few years ago I heard that a magnificent set was offered for sale. A rich East Indian nobleman, so the story goes, had procured the gems as a present to his wife. They were of the choicest quality and of each exactly two, matched precisely in size, cutting and coloration. In time he had two daughters, twins, the mother dying at their birth. Eventually these girls grew up and were married, the ceremony being a double wedding. The father took the set of jewels and divided them, giving to each girl one of each. This greatly diminished their value, for the matching of gems added to their price."

"Reverses of fortune tempted one of these women to offer her jewels for sale. They were taken to a Paris dealer, who chanced to be a man through whom I had made many purchases. He undertook not only to dispose of the gems, but to reproduce them with a high order of imitation; so that the woman retained the original settings and continued to wear what her friends supposed to be the genuine gems. I bought the unset stones. Subsequently my sister, learning the secret, and seeing that there was a way by which the jewels could be retained, while the jewels themselves could be turned into money, engaged the same dealer to serve her in a similar way. Of course I was doubly anxious to obtain this second lot, for by doing so I enhanced the value of those which I had already. I therefore bought them also."

He paused a moment, to allow the company to recover from the surprise at learning that the stolen jewels were his. "This lot was sent to me through the Boston custom-house. I instructed the dealer to do this because I had found that goods can be received with less delay in Boston than in New York. Being notified by my broker that they were ready for delivery, I went to Boston and obtained them. I placed the dealer in a peculiar satchel which had been made to order for me, and carried it to my room at the Hotel Vendôme. Later in the day I met Mr. Randolph, and went with him to a theater. He was to return to New York by the midnight express, and I went with him to the depot. As we stood awaiting our turn to purchase tickets, you may imagine my utter astonishment to see a woman pass and board the train, leaving my satchel in her hand. There could be no mistake whatever, because the satchel was peculiar, both in shape and color. Of course I saw at once I had been robbed. It was useless to go back to my hotel, for that would be time wasted. If by any miracle there were two such satchels, mine was safe in the hotel. I therefore astonished Mr. Randolph by offering to accompany him, and I did so, occupying the same section with him.

"While I was thinking what action I should pursue, knowing that once the train started my thief would be safe as far as New Haven, Mr. Randolph began to praise Mr. Barnes, and like a flash it came to me that this was my chance. I would rob the thief of my own property. Thus I caught I could not be imprisoned, while if not I would not only win my wager, but I would have the excitement and the satisfaction for which I had wished. One thing threatened to upset my plans. Mr. Barnes by an odd chance came aboard the same coach, was given the section next to ours and overheard our conversation. This of course I could not have counted upon."

"You did take it into your account, though," interrupted Mr. Barnes.

"You mean that I refused to tell Mr. Randolph what I meant to do, saying that I might be overheard, and that I might even be talking for the benefit of a listening detective? True, but I had no idea that this was so. It was merely extreme precaution, and only shows that we can never be too cautious in an endeavor to keep a secret. Later, however, I heard you get up, and peeping through the curtains I saw you sitting up or rather lying in a berth opposite, with the curtains drawn. I at once supposed that you must be a detective. My companion was soon asleep, but with $100,000 worth of jewels in the balance I could not sleep. I was busy wondering what I should do. I think, though, that I must have dozed, for I know that I was startled to discover suddenly that we were not moving. I looked out of our section window—fortunately I was next to it—and found that we had run into the depot at New Haven. Like a flash it came to me that the thief might leave the train here. I was about to get up, when to my astonishment I noticed a man sneaking along by the side of the train. I was on the side opposite to that from which the passengers would alight, and the suspicious actions of the man forced me to watch him. He passed so close to me that I could have touched him had my window been open, and as he did so the light of an electric lamp disclosed the fact that he had my satchel. The thief had been robbed already. The man approached a coal bin, and stooping shoved the satchel behind it. Then he returned to the train and came aboard."

"I said to myself: 'That fellow is an artist. He will remain on board till the robbery is discovered, if necessary, and even allow himself to be searched. Then he will quietly come back and get the satchel and jewels.' Thus it was my one to act quickly. But if I left the train I knew that the detective would see me. I therefore gently raised the sash and deftly let myself to the ground out of the window. I quickly took the satchel, ran to the end of the depot, and found a place where I could shove it far under the platform. Then I climbed back into the berth, and after that I assured you I slept very well."

The company applauded this description of how the robbery had been committed, and Mr. Mitchell bowed. "Wait, my friends; we are not through yet. The woman who had robbed me had the supreme audacity to report her loss, or perhaps we should say that she was so angry that she became desperate. I have reason to believe that she had an accomplice in this man, and that suspecting him of robbing her she would have been willing to give testimony against him if caught and trust to escape herself by turning state's evidence. When we were running in to New York, Mr. Barnes directed that all should be searched. I enjoyed that, I assure you. It seemed so amusing to look in New York for what I knew was in New Haven. At the same time I was anxious to get back to New Haven as quickly as possible. With that end in view I invited Mr. Barnes to breakfast with me. I tried to make it appear that I was anxious to have him agree to be the only detective on my track, but in reality I wished to discover whether he would be able to place a spy at my heels; that is, whether he had a man at the Grand Central already. This I found was the case. I therefore was obliged to go to my hotel as though having no desire to leave town again. Then subsequently I eluded this man by the convenient bridge across the elevated railroad. I went to New Ha-

THIS DRUGGIST'S EXPERIENCE

Should interest Janesville People.

Mr. Jos. Bradley, a prominent druggist of New Brunswick, N. J., writes: "I have sold Vinol, the cod liver preparation without oil, for the past three years, and it has given perfect satisfaction."

"I now use Vinol in my family, and can highly recommend it. It is always a pleasure to recommend a medicine that I have found to be of benefit to my class."

The reason Vinol is so fast superseding and so far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions is because it contains all of the medicinal, body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with all of the useless and nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

Vinol makes pure, rich, red blood. It is delicious to take and the weakest stomach can retain it.

As a body-builder, and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, all sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases Vinol is recommended by over 8,000 of the leading druggists of the United States. Your money back if it does not do all we claim for it. Smith-Drug Co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Janesville, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

van, found the satchel, and then deposited it in a hotel near by for safe keeping. My object in this was plain. I knew that the robbery would get into the newspapers, and that by behaving suspiciously at the hotel, of course, I was disguised—attention would be attracted there. This did happen, and the result was that the jewels were given into the custody of the police authorities, the very safest place for them, so far as I was concerned. Gentlemen, that is the story of the crime which I committed. I have only to show my receipt from the Boston custom house and my bill of sale from the Paris dealer to be able to recover my property. Are you satisfied, Mr. Randolph?"

"Entirely. You have won fairly, and I have a check for the amount with me, which you must accept with my congratulations upon your success."

"I thank you very much," said Mr. Mitchell, taking the check. "I take this because I have immediate use for it, as you will learn directly. Now I must tell you the true story of the other robbery."

At this all were very much astonished.

Mr. Thaurer appeared a trifle nervous. He placed one hand over the top of his head, and let it rest there a moment, after first having taken a sip from it.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed. No cure can be effected out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will cure three hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Danderine

GREW THIS HAIR!

AND WE CAN PROVE IT

MISS JEANETTE WALLACE.

When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a flaking substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease and no thing should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a "working mass of insects." These creatures absorb the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp disease and restores the hair to its natural color, strength and beauty. One 2-cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. NOW at all druggists; three sizes: 25c., 50c. & $1.00 per bottle. S. K. WILSON & DANDERINE CO., Chicago.

THE NEWS BOILED DOWN.

The cathedral of the Sacred Heart, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, was dedicated at Richmond, Va.

Ten thousand dollars' worth of jewelry was stolen from two boarders in a fashionable boarding house at 33 Twenty-second street, New York.

So far as can be ascertained, 24 persons were killed; 98 were seriously wounded; and several hundred were slightly injured as a result of the explosion of the Robert factory near Annem, Germany.

In a street duel with pistols between two negroes at Leavenworth, Kan., James Sanders, a coal miner, was fatally wounded, and Richard Thomas, a negro deputy sheriff, and Thomas Gray, also a negro, were dangerously hurt.

Brig. Gen. George W. Baird, U. S. A., retired, is dead at Asheville, N. C. Gen. Baird was born in Connecticut in December, 1839. He served in the civil war and on the western frontier, participating with gallantry in several Indian campaigns.

RICH CARGO FOR FRANCE.

Fifty Million Dollars in Pennsylvania Railway Bonds Shipped.

New York, Nov. 30.—Fifty million dollars in bonds was unloaded at the French line pier Wednesday and at once put aboard the Provence, of the French line, for shipment to Paris. The bonds filled 140 mud-splashed boxes and furnished loads for 12 trucks. The shipment consisted of Pennsylvania railroad bonds covering a loan to the railroad taken by Paris investors. Shipment of these bonds was taken by the Adams Express company from the railroad treasurer's office in Philadelphia.

In all there were 400,000 bonds of 500 francs denomination and 20,000 of 2,500 francs denomination. The issue required for execution 1,260,000 signatures and the affixing of 1,260,000 seals, ten specially appointed assistants, each carrying a stamp, continually signed their names each day for two months.

If the total number of sheets in this issue were laid lengthwise in one continuous line they would reach 297½ miles. The total weight of the bonds was 14½ tons.

JENNIE YEAMANS IS DEAD.

Popular Singer and Actress Succumbs to Tuberculosis.

New York, Nov. 30.—Jennie Yeamans, popular as a singer and actress a decade ago, died after a long illness at the Hotel Gerard from tuberculosis. For a week the physicians had held out no hope of recovery. Miss Yeamans lived with her mother, Annie Yeamans, at the hotel, where they have both been familiar figures for years. Mrs. Yeamans was with her daughter when the end came.

Miss Yeamans, who came of theatrical lineage on both her father's and mother's side, was born in Australia.

William Fisher, Inventor, Dead. Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 30.—A special from Marshalltown, Ia., says that William Fisher, an inventor of steam contrivances in use in every civilized country on the globe, is dead, aged 68. Death resulted from pneumonia. He was prominent in state manufacturing circles, having been treasurer of the Iowa Association of Stationary Engineers, and built the waterworks systems of Clinton, Ames and Muscatine.
